LEE'S ENCAMPMENT!

Located on the Old Emigrant Road across the Blue Mountains via UMATILLA LANDING and LA GRANDE, on the SHORTEST and BEST Route from the Columbia River to the

BOISE AND OWYHEE MINES!

and the ONLY ROUTE practicable at all Seasons.

MEACHAM BROTHERS,

ENCOURAGED by the very liberal patronage of the Traveling Public, have made EXPLOSIVE IMPROVEMENTS at the above well known place for the accommodation of persons and have perfected arrangements for a supply of the best in the market for the table.

Also, a constant supply of Travelers are assured that the Road across the Mountains on this Route is half broken for Teams—both Wagons and Sluiging passing daily—and that it will be kept in traveling condition also that great improvement has been made on the Mountain portion of this route, by cut-offs and changes so as to avoid many of the hills and muddy ravines, and shorten the distance.

Ample arrangements have been made for the accommodation of the traveling public all the way from Umatilla Landing to Boise via Franklin's, Swift's, Willow Springs (Foot of the Blue Mountains) Lee's Encampment, La Grande, and thence on either road to Boise and Owyhee Mines, in no instance exceeding 14 miles between stations.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 14, 1864.

What are they Going to Do About It?

Every southern State as fast as it returns to its allegiance is anxious to devise measures to rid itself of slavery and seems ready, joyfully to embrace the opportunity afforded by its position to take from it the shackles which have cursed it. Steps, more or less advanced, have already been taken in Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Florida, Maryland and Western Virginia, and before many months have passed, we are sure to hear of similar plans in all the other slave States, voluntarily adopted by their own citizens as the wisb means of securing safety and prosperity in the future. The chief opponents of these measures seem to be pro-slavery Democrats at the North, and they find grievous fault, though they have always pretended that they were in favor of allowing the southern States to have their own way: but now, when their way appears to be likely to become the way of freedom, the Democratic lovers of slavery are bitterly hostile to any scheme which may impair their influence by dethroning the god of their political idolatry. In its overthrow, they doubtless perceive the complete destruction of their plans and that the party which has always lived on slavery alone, must fall, never to rise again, but in spite of their opposition, we do not see how they can help themselves. If the South has had enough of slavery, and is determined to abolish it, the Democracy must submit. Its power for mischief has gone. It cannot any longer nurse and strengthen its pet system, but must share its downfall. There is no use in trying to struggle against destiny and the decrees of eternal justice, and we, therefore, advise the party patiently to yield to the will of a free people, for it is sure to be accomplished.

THE POPE AND JEFF DAVIS.—The prince of traitors wrote to the Pope last fall asking his interference in behalf of the rebellion. To this His Holiness replied, expressing many pious and godly thoughts, and giving the arch conspirator some devout religious advice: he offers also to pray for the traitor, and to beg the Almighty to have mercy upon him. This probably was not what Davis wanted, though it was quite as much as he ought to have: doubtless every loyal man will sympathize with the Pope in desiring that Divine mercy may be extended to the Richmond sinners, for certainly there are no persons in the world who need it any more than these infamous rebels, unless we except their Northern allies, who indeed are about twice as wicked.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY.—We publish the report of the Union Convention at Oregon City, furnished to us by the Secretary. The delegates to the State Convention are some of the best citizens of the county, and will do their duty faithfully. The county nominations will, we presume, give general satisfaction. Mr. Eddy, of Milwaukie, who is named for the Senate, was a Representative in 1860, and is an intelligent and thoroughly patriotic citizen, who will faithfully serve his constituents. The Representative list also bears the names of true and competent men. Every county will send men as capable as those nominated by our neighbors, we shall have a safe Legislature, which can neither be bribed or deceived by crafty demagogues.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.—From the proceedings published this morning, our readers will see that a delegation was selected to attend the State Convention, in whose fidelity and patriotism, the utmost confidence may be reposed. Of the preferences of its members, we are not informed, nor do we care for whom they may be, as we feel sure that they will act fairly and honorably, and that they cannot be made the tools of any faction. Everything in the Convention was harmonious, and there seems to be no doubt that this county will make out next June, a thoroughly patriotic report for itself.

SUCCESS TO IT.—The Albany Journal, a new and handsome paper, is cheerfully added to our list of Oregon exchanges this morning. It is earnestly devoted to the welfare of the Union, and we doubt not will be conducted with patriotic energy. We hope it will meet the liberal patronage which it deserves.

MR. LINCOLN'S SUFFERING.—Mrs. Stowe contributes to the Christian Watchman, an interesting article on the President. The following paragraph is taken from it:

"No man in this agony has suffered more and deeper, albeit with a dry, weary, patient pain, that seemed to some like insensibility.

"Whichever way it ends,' he said to the writer, 'I have the impression that I shan't last long after it is over.' After the dreadful repulse at Fredericksburg he is reported to have said, "If there is a man out of hell that suffers more than I do, I pity him." In those dark days his heavy eyes and worn and weary air told how our reverses were upon him; and yet there was a never failing fund of patience at the bottom, and sometimes it rose to the surface in some droll, quaint saying, or story, that forced a laugh even from himself.

Dr. Franklin used to say that rich widows are the only piece of second-hand goods that sell at prime cost.

Multnomah Co. Union Convention.

Convention met at the Court-House pursuant to the call of the County Committee. The meeting was called to order by A. J. Dufur, Chairman of the County Committee. T. H. Pearne is chosen Chairman pro tem, and S. A. Moreland Secretary.

On motion, a committee was appointed on credentials, consisting of Messrs. Fraser, Wakefield and Anderson.

On motion of J. H. Mitchell a committee was appointed on resolutions consisting of Messrs. Mitchell, Green and Schuyler.

The committee on credentials reported delegates from the several precincts as follows:

North Portland—W. Cornell, H. Winterman, L. H. Wakefield, H. B. Morse, A. M. Starr, A. W. Burrage, James W. Click, H. D. Green, R. C. Porter, H. C. Coulson, R. B. Knapp, A. P. Ankeny, Jno. Ewry, W. Tooch, Jr., N. Dolph, A. B. Stewart, Levi Anderson, E. W. Hodgkin, P. C. Schuyler, Jr.

South Portland—John Terwilliger, Joseph Bergmann, Harry Failing, E. Bennett, W. W. Shedd, T. A. Wood, L. M. Parrish, A. Hodgson, J. G. Glenn, J. M. Marble, B. B. Beeker, J. R. Mitchell, W. N. Patton, A. G. Walling, T. H. Pearne, W. S. Powell, B. F. Cardwell, S. A. Moreland, R. J. Ladd, Thomas Frazer.

Multnomah, No. 1—Caleb Richie, J. Wolfe.

Powell Valley—J. S. Royal, G. Kelly, J. Powell.

Multnomah No. 2—C. H. Hall, H. Hanson.

Willamette—Andrew J. Fullen, William Loco.

St. John's—Sylvester Potter.

Sandy—David Powell, R. P. Wilmot.

On motion, the several delegations were authorized to fill vacancies, when any occurred.

The Convention then proceeded to the election of permanent officers, which resulted in the choice of T. H. Pearne as Chairman, and S. A. Moreland and R. J. Ladd, as Secretaries.

The committee on resolutions reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, There is at this time an enormous rebellion raging in the United States that threatens the very life of the Government, and whereas, we believe that the war is prosecuted on the part of the rebels for the purpose of subverting our liberty and freedom, destroying our Republican form of Government and building on its ruins a despotism, the corner stone of which shall be perpetual, hereditary slavery. In view of the above, we believe that every loyal citizen should express his sentiments in unmistakable acts; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we fully endorse the measures of the National Administration to suppress the existing slave-holders' rebellion, including especially the Emancipation Proclamation, and the more recent Amnesty Proclamation, and that we do but give utterance to the will of those we represent, when we declare that the cause of American Nationality, and of Constitutional liberty demands the protection of Abraham Lincoln.

Resolved, That the re-election of Abraham Lincoln and the extention of his Constitutional sway over the revolted States, thereby extinguishing the hope of traitors at home and tyrants abroad, will fully demonstrate the stability of the American Government and the justice of the American people.

Resolved, That we are in favor of only those men as office-holders in Oregon, and elsewhere, who can give unqualified support to the measures of the Administration to suppress armed treason and preserve the country and Government from dismemberment and anarchy.

Resolved, That in the event that Congress shall submit amendments to the Constitution of the United States forever abolishing slavery in all portions of the Union, to the several State Legislatures, that we are in favor of the Legislature of Oregon supporting such proposed amendments.

Resolved, That the memory of our fathers, our national honor and glory, our hope for the future, our fidelity to liberty, all forbid any compromise or hesitancy of purpose until the rebellion is crushed, and the Star Spangled Banner floats over every acre of the Republic.

Resolved, That no sacrifice is too valuable in order to secure to us and our children in the future as in the past, the priceless heritage of civil and religious liberty.

Resolved, That the delegates from this Convention to the State Convention, are hereby instructed to use their influence to secure the adoption, by that body, of resolutions expressive of the sentiments contained in the foregoing resolutions, before making nominations.

After reading of the call by the Secretary the Convention went into an election for delegates to the State Convention, to be holden at Albany on the 30th inst.

The first ballot resulted in the choice of A. M. Starr, Thos. Frazar, J. H. Mitchell, D. Powell, H. Failing and L. H. Wakefield. On the second ballot T. H. Pearne and J. B. Congle.

On motion, the delegates to the State Convention were empowered to appoint proxies should a necessity arise.

On motion of Mr. Frazar the Convention proceeded to the election of a Central Committee, whereupon Messrs. Thomas Frazar, J. N. Dolph and C. Ritchey, were chosen as such committee.

On motion adjourned.

T. H. PEARNE, Chairman.
S. A. MORELAND, R. J. LADD, Secy's.

Clackamas Co. Union Convention.

The delegates elected, pursuant to the call of the County Committee, met at the Court-House in Oregon City on Saturday, the 12th day of March, 1864, at 11 o'clock A. M., and were called to order by the Chairman of the County Committee. Thereupon Hon. W. W. Buck was elected President of the Convention, E. T. T. Fisher, Secretary, and B. N. Short, Assistant Secretary.

W. P. Burns, C. O. Boynton and H. W. Shipley were appointed a committee on credentials.

Owen Wade, J. D. Garrott and Ross Merrick were appointed a committee on resolutions.

George Ross, A. L. Lovejoy and L. D. C. Lafontrette were appointed a committee on order of business.

Committee on resolutions presented the following which were adopted:

WHEREAS, The Constitution vests in the President of the United States the executive power of the Government, and commands him to see that the laws are faithfully executed, it becomes the duty under his responsibility to God and the people he represents, to guard the National honor against foreign assaults, and to maintain the supremacy of law and order against domestic insurrection:

AND WHEREAS, The corresponding duty which honor and patriotism will never seek to evade is equally imperative on all loyal citizens to stand by the Government while our national existence is in peril, to "the last dollar and the last man:"

AND WHEREAS, The republic there can be no interest which is not subservient to the public good—to rights of person or property which are not subordinate to the public safety: Therefore be it resolved:

1st. That as the present slaveholder's rebellion was begun in defiance of the Constitution, for the destruction of the National Union—and in view of the atrocious means employed by rebels and traitors attempting the commission of this national murder, we heartily endorse and approve the measures put in force by this Administration to crush the rebellion, including especially the Emancipation Proclamation:

2d. We are decidedly in favor of employing the emancipated slaves of rebels to fight for the Union.

3d. Approving the financial administration of Secretary Chase, we invite our Legislature to make legal tenders receivable for all taxes, dues and penalties under the laws of this State.

4th. The Amnesty Proclamation for the benefit of repenting rebels, backed as it is, by the splendid victories of our armies, has our cordial approbation as a peace measure, alike honorable and magnanimous.

5th. We are in favor of the re-election of Abraham Lincoln.

6th. We are in favor of those men only, for offices of profit or trust, who are of unconditional loyalty, and who will give an unqualified support to the Administration in its efforts to crush rebellion.

7th. If Congress shall submit an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, by which human slavery shall be forever abolished on American soil, we are in favor of the Legislature of Oregon supporting that amendment.

8th. And we do finally resolve, That as our country is one geographically, and has been one in common history she shall be one in common destiny of Union and Freedom.

J. H. McMillen, H. W. Eddy, E. T. T. Fisher, H. W. Shipley, Jno. M. Drake, Owen Wade, Wm. Barlow, W. P. Burns and Nelson McConnel were elected delegates to the State Union Convention.

The following nominations were made: For State Senator—H. W. Eddy; Representatives—Owen Wade, E. T. T. Fisher and H. W. Shipley; County Commissioners—J. D. Garrott and H. W. Lambert; Clerk—John M. Bacon; Sheriff—W. P. Burns; Treasurer—J. B. Burford; Assessor—C. O. Boynton; School Superintendent—N. W. Randall; Surveyor—R. V. Short; Coroner—R. S. Pantlow.

The following County Committee was elected for the next two years: W. W. Buck, R. V. Short, A. Marquam, C. W. Bryant, Abel Huntoon.

The delegates to the State Convention were unanimously instructed to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of W. C. Johnson, Esq. as candidate for Congress, and were authorized to fill any vacancies which may occur in their number with citizens of this county who may be present at the State Convention.

On motion, adjourned.

W. W. BUCK, President.
E. T. T. FISHER, Sec'y.

FATHER AND SON.—The Lafayette, (Ind.) Courier, of the 5th, tells the following:

"Among the rebels who spent last Sunday in the cars here was an old man, and among the Federal soldiers appointed to guard them was a son of this same old man, both from Kentucky, having joined the two armies about the same time. The son was appointed to guard the door of the car in which his father was a prisoner. The old rebel seeing his son at the door, presumed to take more liberties than the rule allowed, and, coming forward, put his head outside the door. The son, who had evidently been trained to his duty, instantly approached and ordered his father to 'get back there, you d—d old rebel.' Fact! Col. Miller heard the remark."

Rebels Threatening Portsmouth, Va.

Interesting Report of Sherman's Expedition.

OUR POSITION AT CHATTANOOGA.

Lieut Gen. Grant assigned to the command of the Army of the United States.

Gen. Halleck, Chief of staff, assigned to Special Duty in Washington.

Gen. Grant's Headquarters to be in the Field.

NEW YORK, March 11.—A dispatch to the Commercial from Washington says: I have information that Sir Francis Head has written a pungent letter to Secretary Seward, setting forth certain facts connected with the destruction of the steamer Caroline at the time of the Canadian rebellion, and asserting that the position taken by the United States Government in that affair was diametrically opposed to the doctrine promulgated in its dispatch of July last.

A Fortress Monroe letter of the 8th says: Last evening news reached Gen. Hunter that the enemy was troubling our lines between Portsmouth and Suffolk. A consultation between him and Kilpatrick resulted in the latter's command being removed from Yorktown to Portsmouth. Reinforcements were sent to the lines in front of Portsmouth with orders to advance in pursuit of the enemy. A courier from the front yesterday says the enemy's force, consisting of 2,000 infantry, two regiments of cavalry and four pieces of artillery, may have been an advanced force only. Our force is quite sufficient to defend the front and place troops in such a position as will cut off the enemy's retreat.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Senate bills for the admission of Nevada and Colorado into the Union as States will be considered on the 15th, the day set aside for Territorial business.

The Gold bill, as amended by Sherman, and with further amendments restricting any coupon payment of interest on the public debt to a period of one year, passed the Senate by a vote of 30 to 8.

The Post-Office bill was then called up and passed. The House passed the Executive, Legislative and Judicial appropriation bills.

CHICAGO, March 11.—An accident occurred on the Cleveland and Toledo Railroad on Wednesday night, resulting in the mail car taking fire and being entirely consumed. One letter bag for San Francisco and Sacramento and one for Denver City burned.

A correspondent who accompanied Sherman's expedition writes from Canton, Feb. 26th: The expedition was successful in achieving the object for which it was sent. With 20 days' rations Sherman left Vicksburg on the 3d of February. Crossing Big Black next day, he had a sharp fight with Adams' cavalry, driving him beyond Jackson, where the army camped that night. Next morning advanced, skirmishing with the rebel cavalry and driving them before us. On reaching Meridian we encountered Loring and French's divisions, who had been throwing up defences, evidently intending to fight, but retreated without firing a gun. On the 14th Hurlbut's corps entered Meridian, the remainder of the expedition following the ensuing day, having destroyed the town of Hillsboro on the way. At Meridian we encountered the rebel cavalry. Took possession and held the town four days, during which time expeditions were sent out and destroyed 70 miles of railroad, including 30,000 feet of bridging, and a large amount of rolling stock. Considerable rolling stock was destroyed by the rebels to prevent its falling into our hands. Trains at Enterprise and the railroad station at Chankey were destroyed with a large amount of rebel stores. There was no intention of going to Selma, and the main body of the army never went beyond Meridian.

Another correspondent says it was currently reported that Polk had 14,000 men at Meridian, yet dared not make a stand. The expedition was at no time in danger from the enemy's resistance, and was so formidable that the utmost terror was caused by our advance. Smith's cavalry was to have joined them at Meridian. If he had done so, it would have been used for important service on the Tombigbee expedition. Sherman left Canton on the 4th March and arrived at Vicksburg on the 7th. Nothing said about cavalry fighting in the vicinity of Canton, as reported by the rebels a few days since. Whole loss in killed, wounded and missing is set down at 100.

CHATTANOOGA, March 10.—Gen. Thomas rode in front to-day and found all quiet along the lines. Our new position is considerably in advance of the one held during the winter. Gen. Palmer's line embraces the Chickamauga battle-field, Crawfish, Taylor's and White Oak ridges to Cleveland. The gaps are strongly fortified. There are now at Dalton and Tunnel Hill six divisions of rebel infantry and four brigades of cavalry, under Reddy, Patterson, Wright and Davidson. The infantry consists of Hardee's Corps, made up of Walker's, Cheatham's and Clayburg's Divisions, and Hindman's Corps, made up of Stevenson's, Stewart's and Bates' Divisions. 4,000 men is a large estimate for each Division, and 5,000 for the cavalry. This gives a grand total of 20,000 men. There is no apprehension of a raid on the railroads. All the lines are being rebuilt, and the line to Ringgold is nearly finished. They will be guarded.

Veterans are coming back at the rate of 2,000 per day—many regiments having from 300 to 400 recruits.

NEW YORK, March 11.—A letter from Farragut's fleet says he intends to silence Fort Powell so as to send the Mosquito fleet up Mobile Bay. This will cut off Forts Morgan and Gaines. The bay is said to be obstructed three miles below Mobile in such a manner as to compel vessels to pass under the guns of two iron-clad forts and battery on shore on the west side. Mobile is defended strongly at every point. The rebel ram Tennessee still lies in the bay. Mobile is almost entirely destitute of troops, 10,000 having gone to meet Sherman.

Later.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—At an informal meeting of the Republican members the question as to what action should be taken on the Gold bill, which passed the Senate to-day, was discussed. It was finally decided that in order to stop speculation, Secretary Chase's view of the question should be sustained by Republicans.

Gen. Halleck's status is no longer a matter of doubt; he reported to Gen. Grant yesterday and was assigned to special duty here.

LOUISVILLE, March 11.—The Union Central Committee have called a State Convention to meet in this city in May, to nominate an electoral ticket and appoint delegates to the Chicago Convention. The call was signed by James Guthrie, Geo. D. Prentice and others.

CONCORD, N. H., March 11.—Returns from the entire State, except ten towns, give Gilmore 1,992 majority. Four out of five Councilors and nine out of twelve Senators elected are Union Republicans. The Republican majority in the House will be about 75. Gilmore's majority will be about 5,000.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—In compliance with the Senate resolution respecting the point of the commencement of the Pacific Railroad on the 100° west longitude, with a branch road from that, western boundary of Iowa to said 100° west longitude, the President sent a message to that body to-day, designating and establishing such first above named point on the western boundary of Iowa east of and opposite to Omaha.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The French Consul of this port has just issued an order declaring the Mexican ports of Acapulco and Mazatlan under blockade and that neither merchandise nor passengers will be allowed to enter either of those ports.

The Orizaba sailed to-day for Panama, carrying upwards of 500 passengers and $1,000,000.

The opposition steamer America sails on Monday.

The steamer St. Louis, from Panama, arrived at 11 o'clock last night, with 500 tons of freight.

LATEST.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The following order has just been sent to each of the Collectors of Internal Revenue from the Department here:

Sir:—You are informed that in order to increase the Internal Revenue and for other purposes has been approved by the President, and thereby has become a law. Act to take effect from its passage. Duties upon distilled spirits are increased to 60 cents per gallon; on cotton to two cents per pound. You will therefore require distillers of spirits in making returns to specify the amount exempted on and after the 8th of March, and on such amounts to pay a tax of 60 cents per gallon.

(Signed) JOHN J. LEWIS.

The following military arrangements have been made: First, by order of the President, Lieutenant-General Grant is assigned to the command of the United States Army. Second, Major-Gen. Halleck is relieved from duty as General-in-Chief, and assigned special duty in Washington as Chief-of-Staff of the Army. Third, Major-Gen. Sherman is assigned to the command of the Military Division of the Mississippi, lately commanded by Gen. Grant, comprising the Departments of Ohio, Cumberland, Tennessee, and Arkansas. Fourth, Major-Gen. McPherson is to command the Department of Tennessee, recently commanded by Sherman. Fifth, General Grant is to establish his headquarters in the field, with the respective armies of the Ohio and Tennessee under his personal supervision.

Gen. W. T. Smith was to-day nominated Major-General of Volunteers, vice Grant promoted. This is supposed to be preparatory to his assignment to the command of the Army of the Potomac.

The Committee on the Conduct of the War have examined several witnesses concerning Gen. Miller's Florida expedition.

LOUISVILLE, March 12.—Officers from Knoxville, March 6th, say the general impression here was that Longstreet had been ordered to North Carolina.

The rebel gunboat Webb recently showed herself at the mouth of Red river. We have quite a fleet of iron-clad rams there.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Committee on Ways and Means have completed their amendments to the National Banking bill, and establishing a uniform rate of interest at seven per cent.

Gen. Grant intends to concentrate all the Western forces in camp for smashing blows this spring. Another call will soon be issued for 200,000 or 300,000 men.

LOUISVILLE, March 12.—Under the new order, it is understood that Gen. Schofield is to remain in command of Eastern Tennessee and Thomas at Chattanooga. Hooker, Logan, Hurlbut and Granger will retain their present positions as corps commanders.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The steamer Brother Jonathan, from Victoria, has arrived.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY.—Last week we duly mentioned the fact that we had reason to apprehend the importation of thieves, by the last steamer from California, and advised our citizens to be on the look out for them. We have a case at hand to substantiate these apprehensions, and which we trust will at the same time place merchants, and all at the same time, place merchants, and all others, a little more on guard against the light fingered fraternity. The case is an attempted theft, of a very fine saddle, from the store of J B. Cungle, on Front street, which occurred just before the lamps were lighted, on Friday evening. The store is a deep one, with a business place in the rear while the front is used to expose the goods for sale. While the attention of the proprietor was directed to the rear of the store the thief entered, and having probably made his selections in a day-light, picked them up at this favorable chance, and made off. He was not sharp enough, however, to succeed, for being observed and closely pursued, left his booty on the street corner and escaped. It was a bold attempt, to say the least, and although a failure, is no reason that it may not be tried again, at other places, in the city and hence we give it as a warning.

VANDALISM.—At the dark hour of midnight Saturday, the hand of the Vandal was stretched forth, in hostility to the Pearl Saloon corner of First and Morrison streets. The mirrors, hanging over the Bar, were demolished, and the faucets to the liquor casks turned so as to waste the contents. There is nothing known as to who it was that committed the act. The Saloon was locked up, and supposed safe, although it is understood there existed a rivalry between the proprietors.

LARGE FIRE.—Quite an extensive conflagration was visible for several hours last evening, in a southerly direction from this city, and for only six or seven miles distant. Large clouds of black smoke were visible in the dark, spreading away to the southward, and at one o'clock the flames were distinctly seen from elevated positions in town. Various were the conjectures as to its cause, and it was among which was the burning of the Government stables at Vancouver, we think, however, the fire was too far eastward to be that.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Some boys were playing around a lumber pile on Alder street, Saturday when it was pushed over, falling upon and burying, nearly crushing him. It was a narrow escape from death, and should be a warning for the future. Why small children will persist so much to run at large in the streets is curious—and why they are not daily killed, once in a while, by their parents is still more curious.

NEW PAINTING.—We had the pleasure of examining some of the stock certificates painted by A. G Walling, at the Farmer Job Office, and are almost a fac simile of Bank of England work. Those interested in organizing Mining Companies cannot do better than to examine these specimens. The price is moderate, and the work executed in the highest style of the art.

POLICE COURT.—Recorder McCoy disposed of the following causes on Saturday: Wm Chance, who chanced to be drunk, violent and disorderly, was fined $10 and costs, in default of which, defendant was locked up for four days. David Brown, drunk and disorderly, $5 and costs—paid.

SAILING OF LATER.—The bark Iwanowna, Capt Smith, which has been for the past three weeks beating around in her efforts to reach sea, arrived in tow of the John H Couch, and anchored in the river opposite the Custom House landing, last evening, 22 days from San Francisco, since she last started. Her cargo consists of 313 tons of salt, consigned to Richards & McCraken.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT commences its session at Vancouver to-day. The first cause on the docket is the Edwards murder case. The Sheriff of Pacific County, Mr Hanegan, arrived in the city last evening, with the two prisoners in the prosecution, the squaw girl and an Indian, on his way to Vancouver.

FLOWERS.—Yesterday we greeted the bouquet of the season, not to say the only, we admired it. Violets, pinks and hyacinths, fresh from nature's bed, and as lovely, but more especially so at this time in the season.

PACKAGES.—Bachtel & Cardwell advertise that they have secured the services of a first class Artist, direct from New York city. The present is a favorable time—fine weather, and all that, to secure a good picture, and we advise our readers to give them a call.

AN OPERATOR AND A TYPO.—Superintendent Thomas is an excellent Telegraph Operator, and also has a knowledge of the art of type setting. He called upon us yesterday and rattled a few minutes with the stick and rule as handily as he would use his "Key." It always thought printers made the best telegraph operators.

RISE OF FLOUR.—We hear of gold and silver mining stock that sold on Saturday at an advance of 4½ to the share. We look for a large rise in real city to grow up among the rocks of Oregon somewhere, the coming season, and when we do, Washoe stocks and feet will be at a discount. Poor men will become millionaires, and nice cerns. The land speculations of the East will be here duplicated, and land poor will apply to feet.

THE OREGONIAN.—This steamer, the pride of the Columbia, and by far the best river boat in these waters, is now in trim again, having received her larger boilers, and will take the place of the Idaho to-day, in the line of the O S N Company, between the Cascades and the Dalles.

PACK TRAINS.—All day Saturday, and yesterday, pack trains and animals were arriving in the city, from various parts of this State, and California, and we understand the road is lined with more on their way hence, all for the mines.

U. S District Court.—The United States District Court, Hon M P. Deady Justice, will be in session this morning at 10 o'clock, for the purpose of disposing of admiralty causes.

TELEGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENCE.—The subjoined message of Rev Dr Bellows in reply to the greeting of Hon Amory Holbrook, was received last evening.

PORTLAND, March 9th 1864.

AMORY HOLBROOK.

NEW YORK, March 12—[received] Amory Holbrook.—We Oregon children [illegible] out I pull [illegible] or bell to day. God bless our kind patriotic neighbors.

HENRY W BELLOWS.

WILLAMETTE THEATRE.—The appearance of Mrs W H Leighton at this Theatre to night should guarantee a crowded house. As the queen of comedy and song Mrs Leighton has performed in very many of the principal cities of the United States attracting full houses. She will find here a company well able to sustain her, and our wish is that the manager may not lose, in a financial point of view, in his efforts to employ the best performers for our Theatre. We believe they have been very successful so far, and hope they may continue so.

THE steamer John H Couch arrived from Astoria at 8 o'clock last evening, all safe and sound, just as we had finished receiving full particulars of how she was snagged and sunk at the mouth of the Willamette. We congratulate Capt Holman upon that rumor being a canard. She reports the Panama had left at 8 o clock Saturday morning.

HOLDING GRAIN.—We yesterday heard of one person in the Willamette Valley, who has 17,000 bushels of wheat, for which he has refused 75 cents per bushel, preferring to hold it for a better price.

FREIGHTERS.—Six wagons, capable of bearing 6 000 pounds each, leave for the upper Columbia country this morning, on the boats of the O S N Company.

STEAMER ENTERPRISE.—We have been requested to announce that the steamer Enterprise will leave Canemah for Harrisburg, on Tuesday, upon the arrival of the Senator at Oregon City.

PLENTY OF EGGS.—Farmers and dealers of the upper Willamette, intend to keep us supplied with eggs. One and a half tons more arrived on Saturday evening, by the Senator.

THE steamer Senator was well crowded with passengers on Saturday evening, and had 70 tons of freight—bacon, flour, eggs, etc.

THE CITY TAX QUESTION—DECISION OF JUDGE SHATTUCK.—We present the decision of Judge Shattuck, of the Circuit Court, upon the trial of issues between S M Smith and others, against J F. McCoy, Collector of the City of Portland. The questions involve the attention of the tax payers of the city, who will all feel an interest in its perusal.

DECISION

All the questions raised in this case relative to the particular kind of money in which the city taxes are required to be paid, and relative to the 5 per cent penalty for delinquency, have been passed upon at this term in the cases of Davis and Martin against the City Collector, and though the same subjects have been presented anew, and ably argued in this case I do not find reasons to justify me in changing the decision rendered in those cases.

The remaining questions are the rights of parties to an injunction in this kind of cases, and the validity of the ordinance levying special tax.

As a general rule, the correction of errors in the proceedings and determinations of inferior political jurisdictions—such as the Common Council and Mayor of a city corporation—is matter of legal and not of equitable cognizance. A Court of Chancery will not, as a general rule interfere in such cases in relation to any supposed error or irregularity in the assessment, or in the proceedings of the corporation or of the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment.—[Haywood vs the City of Buffalo, 14 New York, 529.]

But the same authorities that recognize this rule, also recognize three exceptions to it.

1st. Where the proceedings in the subordinate tribunal will necessarily lead to a multiplicity of actions.

2d. Where they lead in their execution to the commission of irreparable injury to the freehold.

3d. When the claim of the adverse party to land affected by the tax or assessment, is valid upon the face of the proceedings sought to be set aside, and extrinsic facts are necessary to be proved in order to establish the invalidity or illegality.

Upon the proceedings and facts in this case the right to an injunction, if maintained at all can be allowed only in order to arrest excessive litigation. And contrary to my first impressions after the last argument of the case, I have come to the conclusion that if the invalidity of the proceedings of the City Council in relation to the levy of the tax be established, the allegations of the bill and the proofs warrant the interference of the court to arrest the execution of the warrant by the Collector of taxes.

The bill is ostensibly filed for and in behalf of the plaintiff's as well as on behalf of all other tax-payers of the city of Portland, who may be similarly interested in the matters stated. The seizure of the plaintiff's property and the attempt to sell it, are then charged, among other allegations, of illegality and irregularity in the proceedings and it is added that similar proceedings have been had against divers other tax payers and large quantities of their goods and merchandise likewise seized. Now if the Court is satisfied upon the allegations and proofs that the proceedings of the city authorities are not valid, and that the seizures of property cannot be justified, and that the city is liable to actions for trespass in all those divers cases, as well as in others (a large number of delinquents appearing on the tax roll), where similar methods of enforcing collection may be resorted to, it is the duty of the Court to interfere to prevent such multiplicity of suits.

Are the proceedings of the city authorities thus invalid in any particular? This is a question that I have considered with some care and have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the ordinance levying the special tax cannot be sustained. I say reluctantly come to the conclusion, because the Common Council is a political body, vested with high powers and bearing a grave responsibility as the guardian of the public welfare. They are the chosen agents of the people of the city, and of those very tax payers it is to be presumed and all reasonable presumptions of good faith, fidelity and legality in respect to their acts ought to be entertained. They should be regarded as the friends and not the enemies, of the general good, and of the individual tax payers.

The reasons of my conclusion are briefly these. The two points chiefly relied upon in the argument, except those before mentioned as decided in the other cases submitted before this suit was instituted, are the levy of the special tax for the payment of the debts against the city, and the fact that the ordinance was approved by the Recorder, acting as Mayor, in a case where the Recorder could not act as Mayor. This last objection is an extrinsic fact not appearing upon the face of the proceedings. It is true that the ordinance appears to have been approved by J. F. McCoy, Recorder and acting Mayor, but without allegations and proofs to the contrary, the presumption is that the Recorder acted rightly in exercising the office of Mayor. If the proof showed there was any collusion or ill faith in obtaining the signature of the acting Mayor, or that on account of difference of opinion between the Mayor and the Recorder relative to the ordinance advantage was taken of the mere letter of the charter, to obtain the signature of the acting Mayor because he was known to agree in opinion with the majority of the Council I should be disposed to hold the parties strictly to the spirit of the law, and to give more weight than I do to this objection. But I find that the proceeding was in good faith, and that the acting Mayor properly approved the ordinance so far as his approval by any officer could be proper.

The only question remaining is whether the levy of the special tax was authorized by the recitals in the ordinance, and the facts existing at the time.

The charter of the city has limited the power of taxation by the city authorities to one half of one per cent, except for some specific object. The provision of the charter allowing an additional tax is (See 9 of Art IV) in these words "The Common Council shall have power to levy a [illegible] additional tax not exceeding one half of one per cent on all the taxable property of the city, when over such additional tax is shall be required for some specific object, the ordinance levying such tax shall set forth the specific object and the estimated cost thereof."

The ordinance levying this special tax recites that it is for the purpose of improving the public grounds of the city, the cost of which is [illegible] dollars and for the purpose of paying the indebtedness existing against the City of Portland, which is thirty five hundred dollars and for the purpose of repairing and improving the public streets which is estimated to cost ten thousand dollars &c.

The ordinance shows that after the ordinance was passed [illegible] October 1864 the Auditor of the city and [illegible] known to the Treasurer of the city and [illegible] by him was $2 000 and that there were no funds in the treasury except about $400 in legal tender notes. There also appears to have been at the time a [illegible] against the city for about $1 600 But as to the $2 000 it does not appear to whom it was due nor when or how it accrued. The fiscal year commenced July 1st 1863 and whether the debts were created before or subsequent to that date does not appear. It also appears from the assessment roll that at that time a general tax of one half of one per cent had been levied which upon the [illegible] of the roll would produce nominally about $15,000. The total indebtedness and liabilities of the city [illegible] anything that appears could not exceed $6 000. It appears then that there would remain, after paying the debts of the city a surplus of the general tax levy nothing of the revenue which it is reasonable to presume would in such a town as this be derived from fines and licenses amounting to about $1 000.

I don't think upon the facts of record that the City Council had any authority to levy a special tax [illegible] to pay the debts unless the original debts of the specific object for which they were contracted appeared, and there also appeared to be a deficiency in the ordinary and general revenues of the city. Any other [illegible] would [illegible] the [illegible] provisions of the charter restricting the power of taxation. If the position assumed by the city authorities here be allowed as a principle the City Council would need only to create a debt in order to be empowered to levy a special tax, and through the City Treasury be full to overflowing of the general sources of revenue the tax payers would all be subjected to additional burdens without consulting a tribunal of the purpose for which their money was to be expended.

I think the terms employed in the section quoted "for every debt to be incurred shall be required for some specific object" apply only to cases of emergency, or cases where great public enterprises are undertaken and there is a deficiency of means arising out of the general taxes and ordinary revenues.

In this ordinance the purpose of improving the public grounds and of repairing and improving the streets is a legitimate one for special taxation, but being united with another which is illegal, the payment of debts, and a single and indiscriminate tax levied for all these purposes in common, the whole ordinance is vitiated and no part of it can stand.

The warrant set out by the Collector requires him to collect the taxes charged in the list annexed which includes the special as well as the general tax. The illegality of the special tax vitiates the warrant and the seizure of goods under it is wrongful and the goods will have to be restored to the plaintiff.

I do not hold, however, that if the seizure had been made under a warrant requiring only the collection of the general tax, or that if the special and general tax had been separately referred to in the warrant and the goods had been seized only for default in paying the general tax and the penalty added for delinquency it would be irregular. Such a warrant and such a seizure of goods I think should be sustained.

The Last Charge.

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

Now, men of the North! will you join the strife
For country, for freedom, for honor, for life?
The giant grows wild in his fury and spite —
One blow on his forehead will settle the fight!

And strew him with cannon-bolts, rent up the peal!
Mount, troopers, and follow your gaze to its hair,
As the hound tracks the wolf and the beagle the hare!

Blow, trumpets, your summons, till dead cards awake!
Beat, drums, till the roofs of the false-hearted shake!
Yet, yet, ere the signet is stamped on the scroll,
Their names may be traced on the blood-sprinkled roll!

Trust not the false herald that painted your shield;
True honor to-day must be sought in the field!
Her escutcheon shows white with a blazon of red—
The life-drops of crimson for liberty shed!

The hour is at hand, and the moment draws nigh!
The dog-star of treason grows dim in the sky!
Shine forth from the battle-cloud, light of the morn,
Call back the bright hour when the Nation was born!

The river of peace through our valleys shall run,
As the glaciers of tyranny melt in the sun;
Snake, snuff the pried parricide down from his throne—
His sceptre once broken, the world is our own!

The German Soldier's Death.

Over the door they were bringing the poor fellows; laying them down anywhere, until the soiled clothing which most of them had worn ever since the battle could be removed. The sickening sight that met my eyes, as, under the direction of my friend and sister, I handed food and drink, or bathed and wiped, amid all that blood and dirt, I cannot describe; but to this day the sight of a flannel shirt of the color most common there, makes me faint. There was but an insufficient supply of refreshments, and other ladies coming in to assist, I was going out into the kitchen, to help there, when a nurse met me and said the surgeon wanted me at number nine. I went across the hall to the said number—a little room, comparatively, where were about twenty men worse off than any I had seen. It seemed as if every one of those anguished eyes followed me as I went to the doctor, who said,

"All the rest are busy; my other is gone, so I need somebody. Can you hold this fellow's head for a few minutes? He is a little wandering, and keeps talking to somebody he calls Mary. He'll think you are she."

I saw by the arm, ploughed by a ball from wrist to shoulder, that there must be an amputation; but surely, if the doctor could do it, and the man bear it, I could see it.

"What is his name, doctor?"

"Don't know. Boys, do any of you?"

"Shure, an' it's Kit, miss," spoke up a big Irishman, so done up in rags you could only see his eyes.

"I am come to see you, Kit," and I put my cold, shaking hand on his boyish forehead.

"You are my Marie, are you not?"

I knew by his accent as well as his face, he was German; so I spoke to him in that language, and he accepted me in that hour of extremity for that far away dear one. He would talk, telling me—brave, stout soul that he was:

"Now, Marie, you said I'd run, ask 'em if I did. Ask if I didn't go right through field, up to the rebel guns, till I dropped."

"Did he, boys?" I would say, and when their "yes" would reach his ears, he would open his eyes and call out, cheerily, "Take it back, Marie, take it back."

"Keep him from talking and moving so much," said a surgeon.

Then I began telling him what his folks (as he called them) were doing at home; and, as in his delirium he had let fall many things that guided me, I felt I done no wrong, either to himself or the others present, by cheating them of a few minutes of misery. After Mary, Kit's chief thought seemed to be of some ground he wanted dug up and planted with rose bushes.

"You'll tell 'em when we go home, if I can't, we will have the roses if we can't have anything else, you like 'em so. Why, you brought me one, didn't you?"

Strangely enough, as I passed through the porch, I took a half-opened bud from a house rose that stood there, and fastened it in my belt. Slowly his fingers moved, as if he would take it, and I loosened it from its confinement and put it to the pale lips, as sure as they were young. He kissed it eagerly, murmuring something about bringing it from home. Then I held it where his eyes saw it as long as they saw anything earthly. And that afternoon I sent that white rose to the far-off Michigan home, where the real Mary will sit and weep for her hero through many a golden day.

"But why don't he feel the pain, doctor?"

"Bless you, he is too near gone; I don't think there is a sign of a chance, and never did; but Brown would have me attend him."

"Do you mean he must die?"

"Of course;" and the hurried man went on.

Die, his head in my hand? Death was so strange to me, and for the first time my heart throbbed fearfully, and my sight left me, as I caught a slight sound from the surgeon's instrument. If anybody had minded me, I should have fainted; but all were busy with their own doing and suffering, so I sobbed through, though my tears dropped once or twice on Kit's face.

"Why, Marie, what are you crying for? Won't the roses grow? Never mind, I'll make them. Kiss me to let me know you don't blame me."

I put my lips to his, and if I had not been so mortally afraid of that surgeon, I should have cried uncontrollably; but just then he called out so sharply that I moved Kit's head, and added,

"Look at Kit, miss," said one of our men, near me; for while the doctor was speaking, my eyes wandered to his face. The doctor looked too, and muttered,

"Told Brown he would not live through it; he is dying."

And he stooped his work and went to another patient without delay. I could not leave; I could only hold the heavy head and whisper loving words, as his own people would have done.

"You know," and he looked longingly at me, with dim eyes, "you know it's coming on night, Marie; we'll get the children in and have prayers, then you'll sing me a hymn."

He was listening earnestly, when there was a change came to his face, and he heard angels singing in the Father's kingdom. I removed from him all traces of battle and pain, laid the hair back from his face, put the rose in his only hand, and covered his brow with my handkerchief—thinking, as I did so, that his dead face wore a smile as did my baby niece when I kissed her to sleep the night before.—Records of a Volunteer Nurse.

PROFANITY IN THE PULPIT.—A writer in San Francisco Evangel (religious paper) remarks:

Clergymen using profane language! Yes, that is what I mean. And I have heard it, (i. e., according to my views of profanity,) often, and in various pulpits—until I can forbear no longer. If the natural order is from the pulpit to the pew, then when the former becomes unnatural, an echo should not offend. My friends of the cloth may sneer at my unsophisticated scruples, or condemn my presumption, or affect to ignore my voice, yet I must speak. I heard a man the other day, in one of the prominent churches in this State—a man educated in one of the best seminaries in the land—a man whose whole record, through a score of years (more or less) has been that of a "good minister of Jesus Christ"—a man whose devoted piety, whose arduous zeal, whose fine talents, whose ripe erudition, whose "power in the pulpit," have made him prominent among those of the first rank, use these expressions: "Nothing in God's earth." "Nothing in God's world." "What in God's name." "Nowhere in God's universe." I felt, and I believe that the whole congregation felt a thrill of horror every time one of these expressions were used for the connections in which they were uttered, were very similar to those in which the licentious and profane swearer would use them when in a riotous rout. And I wish the truth did not compel me to refer to the swearing and irreverent manner of the utterances.

This custom of semi-profanity is a growing evil. I have heard it often, and with increasing frequency in various pulpits, from several preachers within the last few months. I have not repeated, nor even referred to all, nor the worst forms of expression, but have only given enough to indicate what I mean, and to arrest the attention of those good men (for I regard them as in error without intent) and enable them to correct so pernicious a custom. Every one of these ministers to whom I have thus painfully listened is a man of learning and ability, a man whom I delight to hear preach, and I would fain hope a man who will apprehend and appreciate this friendly caution.

From the time I commenced taking [illegible] gloomy shadow of death receded, and I [illegible] God for it, and your better. Though I have [illegible] bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I am [illegible] being permitted to rejoin my wife and [illegible] whom I have heard nothing for eighteen [illegible] gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from [illegible] Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I [illegible] tainty of life which has taken the place of [illegible] to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege [illegible] clasping to my bosom those who are dearer [illegible]
